

Topeka Collegiate alumnus Edward Collazo '08 returns to Topeka Collegiate to teach Middle School mathematics. He is eager to give back to the school community that has given so much to him.

Edward earned his bachelor degrees in philosophy and economics with minors in psychology and music from Creighton University in Omaha, Neb.

He recently relocated to Kansas after teaching high school at the Chesterton Academy of Milwaukee, a private school in Brookfield, Wisc. During his time at Chesterton Academy, he taught algebra, geometry, astronomy and Ancient Greek philosophy.

Edward is currently the assistant forensics coach at Shawnee Heights High School, and he tutors students in every math subject from pre-algebra to pre-calculus. Mr. Collazo is a regular substitute teacher at Topeka Collegiate and he is teaching a "Philosophy for Children" after-school adventure this semester.

Welcome back, Edward! We're happy to have you at Topeka Collegiate!
